Mme. Alda Sings the Title Role in 'Manon Lescaut'

Brilliant Audience at the Metropolitan Hears Puccini's Opera.

Puccini's "Manon Lescaut" with Mme. Alda in the title role was given last evening at the Metropolitan Opera House before a large and brilliant audience. The work had been sung once before this season, but this was its first subscription performance.

The rich pictorial setting, the singing of the chorus, and the playing of the orchestra under Mr. Papi's baton formed an admirable background for the singing of the star artists. Mme. Alda, impersonating one of the best parts of the opera, was heard to great advantage. There were times when her voice was hardly in its best condition, but she used it with taste and often effectively.

Mr. Gigli replaced Mr. Johnson as Des Grieux. He had sung the role here once last season. His beautiful voice was heard to advantage in the part, and his acting was more than the other parts. Following his big air in the first act, the performance was delayed because of the applause.

Mr. Scotti was again admirable as the Leacock. Mr. Didur sang the Geronte. Miss Myrtle Schaaf was a musician. The others in the cast, all heard in their parts before, were Messrs. Paitini, singing both the Edmondo and the Ballet Master; Pileo, Roschilian, Audisio and Ananias. The performance seemed to be much enjoyed.

For several of the parties in the boxes the opening performance of the fifth week at the Metropolitan served as a preface to the scene in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander.
